Sympodium Honoring John Murray
September 22, 2022

8:00-8:30: Light breakfast

Co Chairs: Courtney Broaddus, Phil Hopewell

8:30-8:45: Family welcome, Diane Murray

8:45-9:00: Welcome from UCSF and personal reflections, Talmadge King

9:00-9:15: John Murray in the ICU; a nurse’s perspective, Missy Chen

9:15-9:30: The Murray legacy at SFGH (ZSFG): Brian Graham

9:30-9:40: Overview of the program, Phil Hopewell

9:40-10:00 Break

10:00-10:30: COVID-19 and acute respiratory distress syndrome: pathophysiology and therapy, TBA

10:30-11:00: ARDS—the future, Carolyn Calfee

11:00-11:30: Managing COVID-19-associated ARDS in a low resource setting, Juliana Ferreira

11:30-12:00: The impact of COVID-19 on existing lung health programs in low resource settings, Eric Goosby

12:00-1:00: Lunch

1:00-1:30: Knowledge transfer in pulmonary and critical care medicine: the current and future role of textbooks, Courtney Broaddus

1:30-2:00: Knowledge transfer in pulmonary and critical care medicine: The current and future role of journals, Kirsten Bibbins-Domingo

2:00-2:30: The pulmonologist/intensivist of the future: competencies and training, Steve Weinberger

2:30-2:45: Break

2:45-3:15: Global lung health; a comprehensive view. Richard van Zyl-Smit

3:15-3:45: The role of professional societies in global lung health, Lynn Schnapp

3:45-4:30: The future of pulmonary and critical care medicine: what should we be doing now? Panel (Matthay, Calfee, Ferreira, Smit, Schnapp, Weinberger) Moderators: Broaddus, Hopewell

4:30-5:00: General discussion

5:00-6:00: Reception